Members of the Rockefeller Commission to Investigate Hook Worm.

Dr. Simon Flexner at Left, Charles Wardell Stiles at Right, and Dr. Edwin A. Alderman Below.

New York, Nov. 2.—The importance of the hook worm was brought direct to the attention of the public through John D. Rockefeller's gift of $1,000,000 to fight this disease.

It was only a few months ago that the public looked upon the hook worm as a myth and no end of jokes were made out of that form of laziness which is now analyzed as a disease.

The commission as appointed by Mr. Rockefeller is composed of men of national and international reputation in their chosen field of activities and it is certain that if there is any remedy for the plague in the south lands this commission will find it and successfully fight the disease. The commission selected includes the following:

Dr. William H. Welch, professor of pathology in Johns Hopkins university, president of the American Medical association.

Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

Dr. Charles W. Stiles, chief of the division of zoology, United States public health and marine hospital service, and discoverer of the American species of hook worm and the prevalence of the disease in America.

Crossing.

Mrs. Selma Raapana of Franklin street, West Hancock, was instantly killed at 1:40 o'clock this afternoon on the railroad crossing in West Hancock by a south bound coal train on the Mineral Range road. Her body was cut to pieces and scattered for a distance of 100 feet along the track.

Mrs. Raapana was returning home at the time of the accident, after visiting at the store of Eklola & Co., to make some purchases. When she arrived at the crossing the train was approaching and the flagman, John Bogart, is said to have warned her not to attempt to cross the track. However, she started to cross and was struck by the train. She was horribly mangled and pieces of her remains scattered along the track, the train coming to a stop as soon as its speed could be slackened. The train was in charge of Engineer John McLaughlin and Conductor George Rentenbach.

The remains of Mrs. Raapana were gathered up and taken to the Petaja undertaking rooms. Justice, Oliver was notified and he impounded a jury for the inquest, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sheriff Byers and Chief of Police Tibor of Hancock also were informed of the accident and they are now conducting an investigation into the circumstances.

Mrs. Raapana was a widow, aged about 60, and is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Herman Niemela of Franklin street, Hancock, at whose home she resided, and a son, John Raapana of Hancock.

myself next year." Mr. Fuller continued, "and I do not consider that Mr. Osborn's candidacy for governor injures me at all."

"The statement that has come forth from Escanaba was made I understand through the fact that a person in that city and Mr. Osborn are not on the most friendly terms."

"I expect Mr. Osborn will be nominated and I hope to assist him in securing that victory."

Body of Slain Japanese Prince
Reached Tokio Yesterday.

Tokio, Nov. 1.—The body of Prince Ito, who was assassinated on October 25, at Harbin, Manchuria, was received in this city yesterday with honors consistent with the distinguished career of the Japanese statesman. The funeral will be held on Thursday.

The party of escort arrived at Yokosuka on board the warship Iwate just before ten o'clock yesterday and was met there by the family of the prince and a few of his most intimate friends, including Count Inouye, Premier Katsura, Vice Admiral Baron Minoru Saito and Baron Saito Goro, minister of communications. From Yokosuka, a special train brought the party to Tokio.

The scene at the railroad station here when the train arrived was remarkable. The station platform was filled with distinguished representatives of public and private life, those thus paying homage to the slain prince including the five princes. At Yokosuka the privilege of guarding the casket was relinquished by the navy and assumed by the army and here it was placed in a carriage and drawn by troopers through the streets to the Ito home. The route was lined with hundreds of thousands of mourners and from every house passed were displayed flags and crepe, the latter being of bright colors as is the custom in Japan. The body will lie in state at the late residence of the prince until Thursday when the funeral will be held.

LABOR LEADERS LOSE BIG CASE

District Supreme Court Affirms
Lower Court's Decision in Boycott Matter.

RIGHT TO APPEAL QUESTIONED

Court Holds That Organization of Citizens Has No More Right to Disobey
Mandates of Court Than Individuals
—Only One Justice Has a Dissenting Opinion.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The district court of appeals today affirmed the decree of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, adjudging president Samuel Gompers, secretary Frank Morrison and vice president John Mitchell, of the Federation of Labor, guilty of contempt of court in the Buck Stove and Range case. Chief Justice Sheppard dissented from the opinion of the court on constitutional grounds.

Issue at Stake.

The court held that the fundamental issue was whether the constitutional agencies of the government should be obeyed or defied. The mere fact that the defendants were officers of organized labor in America, said the court, lent importance to the cause and added to the gravity of the situation, but it should not be permitted to influence the result.

"If an organization of citizens, however large," the court held, "may disobey the mandates of the court, the same reasoning would render them subject to individual defiance. Both are subject to the law and neither is above it. If a citizen, though he may honestly believe his rights have been invaded, may elect when and to what extent he will obey the mandates of the court and the requirements of law as interpreted by the court, instead of pursuing an orderly course of appeal, not only the courts but the government itself would become powerless and society would be reduced to a state of anarchy."

Continue Boycott.

The action of the supreme court of the District of Columbia in sentencing Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison to 12, nine and six months imprisonment in jail, respectively, was the result of the failure of these defendants to obey the order of the court directing them to desist from placing the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis, on their "unfair list" and in the prosecution of their boycott against the corporation.

The boycott placed by the Federation against the Bucks Stove and Range company grew out of a fight made by the metal polishers' union and supported by the federation for an eight instead of a nine hour day. This was resisted by the company and the Federationist published the name of the company under the caption "We Don't Patronize."

Held for Contempt.

The proceedings against the officers of the federation were begun on Aug. 19, 1907, by the company. The injunction against the boycott was issued by the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The case went to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. References to the company continuing in the Federationist and on speeches and writings of the defendants, they were cited for contempt. They were found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment in the district jail, but were released on bail. Last March, the court of appeals modified the District supreme court's injunction decree by adding to the injunction the words "in furtherance of said boycott." This modification was looked upon by the attorneys for the defendants as materially affecting the proceedings for contempt. They claimed that had those words appeared in the original injunction the contempt proceedings never could have been decided against them.

The labor leaders probably will attempt to appeal the case to the U. S. supreme court, but in some quarters there is a doubt as to the right of appeal.

Dissenting Opinion.

Chief Justice Sheppard in his dissenting opinion, held that the decree should be reversed because he was convinced that the lower court was without authority to make the only order which the defendants could be said to have disobeyed.

ELKS MEET WEDNESDAY.

There will be a regular meeting of the Calumet lodge of Elks Wednesday evening when initiation ceremonies will be held. TEST NEW SYSTEM OF VOTING IN GRAND JUNCTION TODAY

No Candidate Can Go Before People as Representative of Any Party or Faction—Voters Vested With Right of Recall—City Wards Have Been Abolished—Other Features.

Grand Junction, Col., Nov. 2.—The New Zealand system of preferential voting was tried for the first time in the United States at the election in this city today. Last April Grand Junction adopted a new charter modeled on the Galveston and Des Moines plan of government by commission, but providing also for the New Zealand system of "choice voting" on all candidates for city offices.

Experts in municipal government declare that the Grand Junction charter is one of the most advanced documents of its kind in America. Partisan politics is completely done away with. No candidate can go before the people as the candidate of any party or faction or under any party name. All candidates are nominated by petition. No candidate can hire workers or engage in an active campaign on election day. The people are vested with the right of initiative and referendum and the recall, and the exclusive power of authorizing, regulating or terminating its public service corporations is given to the people alone.

The preferential system of voting is designed to secure an accurate expression of the will of the people at the polls with a minimum cost and effort. City wards have been abolished. The administration of the city is divided into five departments: public affairs, finance and supplies, streets, health and civic beauty, water, sewers. Each commissioner is required to take active charge of his department. The average pay for the commissioners amounts to $1,500 a year.

MURDERED YOUNG GIRL.

This is Charge Against Two Young Men in Boston, Mass.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—Unless the police are mistaken, the trial of Peter C. Delorey and James Mantir, which is scheduled to begin in the superior court at East Cambridge tomorrow, will prove the truth of the old saying that murder will out. The crime of which the young men are accused was the murder of Annie Mullins, a young girl whose mutilated body was found in a field in Arlington a year ago last March. For more than a year the case completely baffled the authorities who were unable to obtain the slightest clue to the perpetrators of the outrage. Then, when the public had almost forgotten the affair except in the immediate vicinity of the place where it occurred, the two youths were arrested as a result of statements made by one of them, Delorey, the one who was arrested first, is said to have made a complete confession involving Mantir in the crime.

CAPTAIN WANTED FORECAST.

Calumet Wireless Station Talks With Steamer Wilpen on Lake.

The Calumet station of the United Wireless station talked with the steamer Wilpen on Lake Superior this morning. The Wilpen is an ore carrier and is bound down the lakes with an ore cargo. Its captain, Thos. H. Saunders, inquired for the weather forecast this morning, which was supplied to the station by The News. He was assured that it would be fair tonight and tomorrow and that the wind would diminish in velocity. The daily forecasts, which are obtained from the weather bureau at Houghton by The News, are eagerly sought by lake captains, particularly at this time of the year when storms are common. Boats have implicit faith in the weather bureau's predictions and if a storm is predicted they immediately seek shelter. The local wireless station reports that it is working with the Duluth station daily now and that no more trouble is being experienced.

HAD JUST BOUGHT A FARM.

Miner Who Died Suddenly in Mine
Intended to Quit Mining.

John Hakli, the miner who died suddenly yesterday morning while at work in the South Kearsarge branch of the Osceola Mining company had only recently completed the sale of his house and lot at Centennial Heights, and had purchased a farm, costing $2,000 with the intention of giving up mining and becoming a farmer. The old adage that "Man proposes and God disposes," is truly illustrated in Hakli's case.

Coroner Fisher impelled a jury yesterday afternoon to inquire into the cause of Hakli's death. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict to the effect that death from heart disease was the cause.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon with services at the Finnish church on Eighth street, Rev. Mr. Ristonen officiating. The deceased is survived by a wife and four children.

Michael Harrington, formerly head bookkeeper for the Calumet Brewing company, has resigned to take a position with the New Haven Coal Mining company at Oroasco.

William Wills, Archie Hall and Charles Skelly have returned from a hunting trip spent at Summit near L'Anse.

HOT TIME IN OL' KAINUCK

Election is Cause of Great Excitement in Breathitt County, Kentucky.

ISSUES THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

Tom Johnson Believes He Will be Re-Elected Mayor of Cleveland and in New York the Betting is 2 to 1 on Gaynor—Prohibition, Negro and Graft Issues Prominent.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Election weather early today varied in different sections. In the most eastern points there was rain or threatening skies, while in the western section it was more favorable.

From the sensational point of view, Breathitt county, Kentucky, easily occupies the center of the stage. From various points of that county come reports of armed factions ready for serious trouble, stolen and burned barrels and state militia stationed at threatened points to see that a fair election is held.

In Louisville, Ky., the negro question is the dominant issue.

Ohio municipal elections are purely local issues, with the liquor question standing out prominently here and there.

Tom Johnson is confident of reelection as mayor of Cleveland, while his opponents seem sure of his defeat. The liquor question, law enforcement, control of party machinery and political complexion of the next legislature are paramount issues in Indiana today.

San Francisco's fight is on issues growing out of alleged graft among public officials which has been before the courts and attracted country-wide attention.

The chief issue in Maryland is the proposed amendment to the state constitution designed to disfranchise the negro.

Elections in which prohibition question is involved are being held in thirty-three Illinois cities and villages today. In the sections affected nine are at present in the "wet" column and twenty-four are classed as "dry."

Gaynor Favorite in New York.

New York, Nov. 2.—New Yorkers went to the polls early today to cast their votes for the mayoralty election. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and a large vote was cast early. The managers all confidently predicted victory for their candidates. Gaynor, democrat, was the favorite in the early betting at 2 to 1.

Robert Taft, son of President Taft, came down from New Haven last night with several classmates of Yale, and did his duty as a republican watcher at a voting place in a little store on Third avenue.

May Adopt Commission Plan.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 2.—Whether Topeka, the capital and largest city of Kansas, shall follow the example of Leavenworth and other cities of the state in adopting the commission plan of government is to be decided at today's election. While the business men generally are in favor of the proposed change it has been bitterly opposed by the majority of the politicians and office-holders and the campaign leading up to the election was one of the most spirited in Topeka's history. An unusually large vote was polled early in the day, indicating the widespread interest which the question has aroused.

Arrests Made in Gary.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 2.—The "provocation" law, operative here, furnished the feature of the election today. Under this law a person casting aspirations on another may be arrested. Four arrests were made on this charge after the polls opened. About half of the total vote was cast before 9 o'clock. Only one minor disorder has been reported.

HOPE TO ATTAIN FOURTEEN- FOOT CHANNEL IN VALLEY

Closing Day of Deep Waterways Convention at New Orleans Marked by Further Pledges of Support of Movement for Deep Channel Through Mississippi Valley to Lakes.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 2.—The closing session today of the deep waterways convention was marked by enthusiastic expressions of faith in the attainment of "Fourteen feet through the valley"; further pledges of support of the movement and additional estimates of benefits to result from the movement's realization. Participating in the program were representatives of several Latin-American countries, which will be directly affected by the construction of a deepened channel through the Mississippi valley to the lakes.

The Finnish Hymn band, under the direction of Prof. Jacobson, will give a promenade Saturday evening, November 6, in the Red Jacket town-hall. A popular program is being arranged. This will be the first promenade by the band.
